Thank you for the clarification. I will work on approval for the new amount if that can be quoted.

Sgt,

Which location are you referring to?

Locations 04, 09, 24, 26 are all reflecting DOT on our side and these would require the advanced pole options if we remain in the same spot. If you have any documentation that these are not state maintained roads and instead approved for your city to maintain, please send that over.

Lastly, some project related news for you.

I have taken on a new role within the company.

Because of this, I'd like to introduce you to your new project manager @Jennifer Silva.

Jennifer is fantastic and you will be in great hands!

I have ramped her up on your project and she will be able to take over from here.

It was great working with you on this project for the time I was here!

I am excited to hear of all the success you have.

It makes the most sense to put it on a Flock pole so we can move forward since I know we can't put anything on CDOT infrastructure. Thanks you.

Sgt. Graff,

I can chime in here regarding the pricing piece of this. I've broken down the costs below and would just need to confirm with you how many locations this would be for?

Flock Pole: $650

Advanced Breakaway Pole: $1,250

For CDOT ROW locations, if there is a guardrail that we can install behind then we can use a Flock pole for that location. If there is no guardrail or existing pole we can install on, CDOT requires that we use the Advanced Breakaway poles. Essentially the one major rule CDOT has is that we cannot install on CDOT owned infrastructure so our goal here would be to find a guardrail to keep the costs down.

As for the permitting aspect, I figured it would need DOT permitting given it was going to be in that area anyway. Thank you.

Sgt,

Nice to meet you and I am so sorry for the delay.

I am looking into your Relocation project and the issue we are faced with now is that Xcel energy pole approval will take much longer and could potentially include more added fees. This would also require us to go the AC route vs the solar route which I believe we would want to avoid.

A few options we have is to relocate off of Xcel poles and onto new locations off of the DOT or we can remain in the same areas and permit through DOT but this would require an amended cost to include a more advanced pole required by the DOT. (the same pole we have added for location 10)

I have included @Will Nobles your sales rep to assist in this decision as well.

Here is a map for reference regarding locations 4, 9, 24 and 26.

Let me know the next steps for us. Alex was amazing to get this going but she unfortunately left Boulder PD to work for a different company. I know we want to get these cameras moved sooner than later to help us be more productive. Thanks for the help.

Good morning,

I wanted to connect you all with my teammates Ronda Caswell and Michael Grosso. My last day with Boulder PD will be Wednesday, June 5th.

I am hoping I will be able to assist with submitting the accessibility paperwork to pay our invoices before this date.

Ronda, Mike, and Sgt. Graff will work with you all once our new ALPR policy is in place to finish our relocation project.

Please let me know if there's anything you need from me leading up to this date.

Thank you!
Alex
