Hey Chief Herold!

Hope everything is going well on your end. I'm sad that I missed you for the Axon event the other week, but I'm glad you got to see some of their new tech.

Quick update- working with Sgt. Heath has been great, which I'm sure comes as no surprise, and right now, I believe we're just working through city IT (always a fun time). I also let him know about a new product we have coming out (the Raven) that does audio detection and triangulation of gunshots, tires screeching, glass breaking, and metal cutting, then ties it to ALPR data. You guys will qualify to test it out for free for a year if interested, but let me know if you want more info.

Mainly, I just wanted to share a cool story that just came out of Redlands CA. Since they're a similar size and crime rate, it made me think of you guys when it came out- https://www.linkedin.com/posts/flock-safety_theyre-never-going-to-find-him-activity-6859863170085908481-LTxR

Please let me know if there's anything you ever need from me!

Thanks,
Andrew
