I looked through much of the list, and we have had several arrests go through the courts with reports generated by Draft One. These were plea deals, just based on the timeline that our court system is on. We also have quite a few that have jury trials set for this fall. So far, so good!

Sorry for the delay! Feel free to bump me on a text if I don't respond right away. I am not personally aware of any D1 reports going through a live court setting. However, I can almost guarantee reports have been used in plea deals. I'll try and go through some of the reports you indicated had used D1 and see what I can find out.

Happy Friday Capt,

Any Draft One reports make their way through the courts yet? Lots of customers are curious =)

Have a great weekend!

Noah
