If you are getting an error and a button that is directing your toward the Desktop Version, you need to update the shortcut (app on your homepage).

In an internet browser, go to lafayettepdin.evidence.com/axon/mobile

Then click the box with an arrow at the bottom of your options bar.

Add to your home screen.

You can then delete your old shortcut off your phone. Axon is working on a native app to download from the app store instead of the home screen shortcut.

I'll probably cover this during ADT this month in addition to the AI Narrative Assistant.

I'm trying to gauge the usage of the Axon mobile app (using Records on your phone). If you use it, please advise how often and what types of tasks you are completing (searching Axon RMS, completing reports, etc.).

Thanks,
