Per our recent telephone conversation, please use the following link <https://www.memphistn.gov/cms/One.aspx?portalId=11150816&pageId=12088729> (desktop computer version) to submit a public records request with the City of Memphis. After clicking the link, you should see a web page titled Communications, scroll downwards on the screen and under the Request Public Records section there are two blue boxes, select the Submit a New FOIA Request link and click the Create Account link (if you are a new user) then fill in the information requested in order to submit your records request with the City of Memphis. If you are having trouble with the link simply visit the City of Memphis website www.memphistn.gov and click on Government, then select Communications and follow the instructions referenced in the second sentence above. Please be sure to attach proof of Tennessee citizenship (valid Tennessee driver's license, Shelby County voter's registration card, or Memphis Library photo id card) in order to prevent processing delays.

311 iTracker Website to search online for code violations

You may also use the following 311 iTracker link <http://mapgis.memphistn.gov/applications/iTracker/#/search> to search any address for a history of open/closed Code Enforcement incidents in the city of Memphis. To utilize this system, select Search Associated to Single Address, type in the desired address, select the address, select Show

Moreover, if you are still having trouble submitting your request via the online portal please email your public records request and proof of Tennessee citizenship to openrecordsrequests@memphistn.gov.
